One of Us for All of Us

Bobby grew up in Stamford's Waterside neighborhood, excelled at Rippowam High, and played 10 seasons in the MLB. He then managed the Texas Rangers, New York Mets, Boston Red Sox, and built a championship team in Japan. Bobby opened a restaurant on Main Street in 1980, igniting a transformation of downtown, and launched a youth sports academy in Springdale that serves thousands.

As Executive Director of Athletics at Sacred Heart University, Bobby manages 1,000 student athletes, 90 coaches and administrators, and a multimillion-dollar budget.

Bobby has always served Stamford through philanthropy, and is asking for your support to lead the city he loves as mayor.
