

Betsy Lohrer Hall, Untitled, (waiting), 2021
paper, thread, paint, ink, time, 6.5" x 6.25"

Artist, curator and educator Betsy Lohrer Hall is available for:

- speaking engagements and panel discussions
- studio art workshops for small groups, private lessons, creative retreats
- one-to-one and small group art critiques
- mentorship to artists at any stage of their careers
- curating, consulting

For more information and pricing contact: betsylohrerhall@gmail.com

Betsy Lohrer Hall is a visual artist based in Long Beach, California. She earned an MFA in drawing and painting from California State University, Fullerton, and a BA in studio art from Colorado College. She studied in London and Florence and New York City. She has exhibited work in solo and group shows in the U.S., Thailand, and Taiwan. As a member of the artist group FLOOD she helped to produce the PUMP 2017 arts festival and recent soundpedro events at Angels Gate Cultural Center, San Pedro. She opened Flux Art Space in 2018, where she serves as curator and director. She has taught studio art, art history, and writing at several colleges in southern California, and is currently teaching History of Women Artists and Writing in the Arts at CSU Fullerton.