Artist Statement

I am a fabricator at heart and the construction process fascinates me. The problem-solving and essentials of process must satisfy some need to control and produce an outcome. In spite of that, my work process is seldom linear and the start of making often results in a new direction or the unexpected. I like my work to incorporate some whimsy, a bit of snark, or a little story.

Artist Bio

Anne Randall is a corporate refugee who gleefully reinvented herself as an artist. Her focus is art jewelry, enameling and metalsmithing. She exhibits and teaches in the Puget Sound region where she is also active in several arts groups. She has studied extensively with master artists from throughout the United States and Europe. A selection of exhibitions and affiliations is below.
