Work Experience:

15 years of working with under privileged children promoting art and book reading. To promote Children's art, founded Funkor Child Art Centre, 2001, in Islamabad. It is one of the few charity trusts in Pakistan, exclusively dedicated to the promotion of children's art and book reading. Funkor uses the medium of arts to extend children's outlook and awareness of the concepts of environment and heritage protection, human rights, equality, tolerance and peace.

Developed the cartoon character Amai – The Bird of Light. It is a tiny bird made of light that can change into a shooting star and takes children on exciting adventures.
