

California born artist Kristi Totoritis has received a Master of Visual Arts from The Australian National University and a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Virginia Commonwealth University. Totoritis is a Professor at Old Dominion University, an instructor at VisArts in Richmond, and at The Chrysler Museum of Art's Perry Glass Studio. She has studied at various craft schools including Pilchuck Glass School, The Studio at Corning, The Bullseye Resource Center, Pittsburg Glass Center, Urban Glass, Penland School of Craft, and The Canberra Glass Works. She makes wearables and production works under the name of heartcoreglass and continues to develop adornment objects and contemporary glass memento mori examining the sentimental kitsch.

@heartcoreglass

Kristitotoritis.com