

Michelle Jerome

American, Born 1952

Michelle Jerome was born in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She is a practicing artist in Boulder, Colorado. She earned her BFA at the Minneapolis College of Art and Design and went on to pursue her art through several mediums including oil painting, encaustics, and printmaking.

Jerome's compositions reflect her interest in color, patterns, and textures found in everyday imagery. Michelle's abstract pieces evoke the patterns found in nature which is the fundamental influence for all her work. In this regard her work is unique in that it resonates with collectors of both abstraction and impressionism and is appreciated for its beauty, integrity and authenticity.

Her paintings are in private collections throughout the country.
