

LORI SIMMERMAN GOLL

My love for art began at a very young age, when my great-grandmother would sit with me at our kitchen table in eastern Kentucky and show me the “proper way” to draw a house, tree, and fence.

I have always loved to draw and paint. After attaining an Electrical Engineering degree from Virginia Tech and working a few years in telecommunications I realized that my true love is and has always been ART. I now try to paint the calm and inspiration of my muses...vast natural vistas (seascapes or landscapes), birds and animals, ocean waves, rural and bucolic scenes, dark, moody silhouettes, and golden skies to name a few.

When my children were young I began a more formal art education, first with watercolor and drawing classes from Lassie Corbett, then several semesters of printmaking, drawing, painting, and art history courses at NOVA Community College towards an Associate Fine Arts degree. I then began attending professional artist workshops, including an oil-painting plein-air workshop with Kevin Fitzgerald, intense color theory workshops with pastelists Lou Gagnon and Casey Klahn. In 2016 I studied with Master Pastelist Richard McKinley during a week-long plein air pastel workshop. The last three summers I have painted with Danni Dawson, Kurt Schwarz, Paul Lucchesi and Mike Francis at they Art League’s “Week in Thomas” workshop in West Virginia. I also enjoy painting en plein air with the Loudoun Sketch Club.

I have had several solo exhibitions, and exhibit regularly in numerous juried shows throughout the area. I’m very active in the local art community as a Board Member of the Loudoun Sketch Club, a member of the Great Falls Studio group and the Loudoun Arts Council. For several years, I’ve been an art instructor at the Great Falls School of Art and Compass Homeschool Enrichment. I’ve received many awards for my work.

My favorite subjects are from nature: landscapes, seascapes, birds, animals, plants and trees. I am particularly drawn to the work of Tonalist landscape artists such as Kevin Fitzgerald, George Inness, Charles Warren Eaton, Corot and others. I also find tremendous inspiration in the mood-evoking works of Millet, Andrew Wyeth, Edward Hopper and Mark Rothko.

I now paint at my home studio near historic downtown Leesburg.
