

Susan Blatt

Susan grew up in Florida, where the flat topography and a landscape dominated by vibrant and saturated color focused her eye on the form and shape of things. This led to her interest in line, color, shape, and form and to her development as an abstract painter.

She is a graduate of Massachusetts College of Art and Design with a BFA in painting and also has a BA from Tulane University where she studied sociology and the history of art. Her work has been selected for inclusion in numerous national and regional exhibits juried by noted curators and is in private collections.
