UWF BFA candidate 2012.

Likes to video and graphically design.

Finds surprising uses for camera lenses.

Has broken more than one computer thinking he can “fix it.”

Knows how to operate a hammer.

Has traveled to exactly one far off land. Would like to go back there someday.

STATEMENT:

I started working with video and graphic design when I was fifteen years old. In those eight years, I have certainly improved my craft in many ways and made use of all the new technologies that have been introduced. Discovering and learning new ways to design things and new platforms with which to design them is one of my great passions. A new camera or a new version of Photoshop and the possibilities that come with these advancements means that the fields of design and video are always changing, always new; always exciting.
