ASCEND: A Journey Into The Possible

“Art washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life”.

~Pablo Picasso

For many years the hexagon has followed me, intrigued me, and helped to expand my consciousness and body of work. Hexagons and honeycombs are the building blocks of life and found throughout nature including inside of ourselves, in our DNA, and cells. Known as the strongest and most efficient structures, it is no surprise that the Bees use honeycombs to live in and store their precious honey. As I researched the Hexagon further, I learned that it is one of many Sacred Geometry symbols and a doorway to progress spiritually and creatively.

From my experience, Sacred Geometry symbols assist in bringing harmony into one’s life, as well as awakening dormant aspects of the soul, such as inner peace, enthusiasm, passion, and revealing your life’s purpose. Through my creative practice, I discovered that I can interpret and channel your specific intentions into my art. By connecting to what some refer to as the Universe, God, Source, or Higher Power, I will bring forth a visual representation of what you are seeking.

Over the past 11 years, I have developed a process of attunement with the client, where I am fully immersed in the energy I generate through the artistic process. Also, as I integrated sacred symbols into my paintings, I soon came to realize that when viewing my art through 3D glasses, new visual dimensions were exposed. The word “Ascend” means to advance to the next level, to soar, to succeed upward and I believe my artwork is transformative both to my clients and to me. Together, we can take a journey into the Possible through the power of Art.
