

Rosee Camafreita was born in Cuba but lives and works in Miami. She has been observing the development of Miami's burgeoning art scene and has a lot to say on that. She received her BFA from Miami Dade College. Her work has been exhibited in such locales as Little Havana, South Miami and Downtown Miami and can be found in many of Miami's private collections. Her relentless dedication for working in the studio inspires her "to attempt to communicate and interact with others, not through words, but through looking."
