

A. Cortright Devereux is a painter and fine artist trained at the Pennsylvania Academy of The Fine Arts and the Colorado College of liberal arts. Cortright considers nature to be a vital inspiration and works indoors painting still life and portraits in addition to working outside on landscapes. Cortright has received the Irma C. Cook prize in Drawing from the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts (PAFA) as well as a Certificate in Fine Art from PAFA (a four year intensive art studio experience). Cortright has shown in Philadelphia, Islesboro, Wilmington, Northeast Harbor, and West Grove and has work in private collections in Philadelphia, New York and across the US. He has received undergraduate education in architecture and holds a bachelor's degree in Comparative Religion from the Colorado College. Cortright lives currently outside of Kennett Square, a very rural area about one hour away from the city of Philadelphia.
