

Bio:

I paint.

I am largely a self-taught painter. I mostly work with acrylic and oil paint on canvas to construct abstract imagery with elements of raw gestural markings that at times may have a narrative involving identifiable imagery. My studio practice is a mix of experiments with color, texture, line and form on canvas or large drawings on paper. Oftentimes, the results are a mix bag of unintentionally beautiful artworks and failures that are both necessary steps in the continual pursuit of my craft and purpose.

I paint.
