BODIES III, curated by Megan Euker, highlights the medical device design work of Megan Euker's students from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago; University of South Florida; and Accademia di Belle Arti in Siracusa, Sicily. Euker taught in Sicily during 2022-23 as part of her Fulbright Scholar project, "Sangue Tira." The pieces create a social impact by making it easier for all kinds of bodies to move through the world.
