

Kasia Kay Art Projects and The Storefront Project are pleased to present

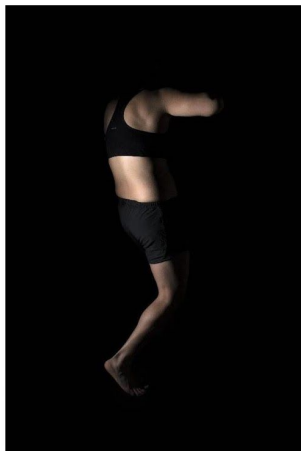

On Guard NY

Betsy Odom
Bulldog 10: Mitt, 2018

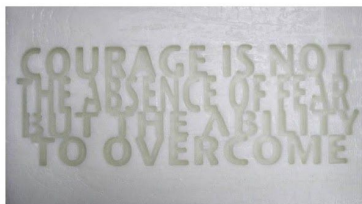

Tara Lewis
Ha Ha Ha, 2019

Marcela Torres
The Podium #1, 2016
Photograph by Jesse Meredith

On Guard NY

Amina Zoubir
Courage, 2017-2019

On Guard NY is a group exhibition curated by Kasia Kay, to be on view at The StoreFront Project from October 30 - December 1, 2019.

Opening reception: Wednesday October 30th, 6-9PM.

The Storefront Project is located at 70 Orchard Street North, New York, NY 10002.

Gallery Hours are Tuesday - Sunday 1-6 PM.

For more information contact us here: 646.319.2220 g@storefrontproject.com
kasia@kasiakayartprojects.co

On Guard NY is meant to be a reminder of the courage within all of us and to empower viewers to fight for their rights on both personal and collective levels.

The show compares athleticism to the nature of life: keeping us on our feet and on guard at all times. Competitive sports are a performance business and, in this sense, it easily translates to an exhibition.

Artists include: Katya Bankowsky with Maya Angelou, and Katya Bankowsky with Michele Lamy, Zoë Buckman, Megan Euker, Kasia Kay, Tara Lewis, Betsy Odom, Mimi Plange, Cheryl Pope, Annabelle Schlesinger, Marcela Torres and Amina Zoubir.

Stay tuned for additional programming.

Kasia Kay is a Chicago-based independent art curator collaborating with international artists and cultural partners, and showcasing both local and international artists at various stages of their careers. Founder and curator of Kasia Kay Art Projects, she has been working in the contemporary art field for 16 years. Prior to focusing on curatorial projects she was a highly respected gallerist for 12 years. She has worked with an international clientele and participated in renowned international art fairs since 2006. Interested in eliminating conventional experiences from the gallery space, she has curated and produced exhibition projects and site-specific installations at venues in Chicago, Miami and New York.