"Faded Genes" follows the journey of Danny, an insurance man who discovers that he may shortly die from leukemia. His life goes from mundane to quite meaningful and his only hope is a bone marrow transplant. The 47-year-old's best pals are Patg, a broken-down crooner and Kevin, a professional drinker and sage.

Danny lives with his mother, a chain-smoking all-star wrestling addict who, in order to increase her son's chances of finding a matching bone marrow donor confesses that his biological father lives in Italy. Patg accompanies Danny to Altamura, a town in the region of Puglia in southern Italy, with the hopes of convincing Danny's father to take a compatibility exam.
