John O'Neill received his BFA in painting in 1993 from the State University of New York at New Paltz. A lifelong resident of New York City, he relocated to Bucks County in 2012 where he discovered his passion for plein air painting. John derives his inspiration from the landscape of Bucks County and the Central New Jersey region. His favorite locations include the farms and towns along the Delaware River.

John currently resides in Morrisville, PA and works as the General Manager of Jerry's Artarama Art Supplies in Lawrenceville, NJ.
