

Anne Womack, Painter

Anne Womack's interest in drawing and painting began as a child. Her early paintings primarily concentrated on rural landscapes of Mississippi and Louisiana. Her range of subject matter extends to portraits and landscapes but her passion is still life painting. Her medium of choice is oil on canvas, usually with an underpainting of acrylic. Using the camera as a supplement to her sketchbook, she creates compositions that suggest a story narrative. The paintings have a traditional feel, with a touch of the contemporary.

A native of Meridian, Mississippi, Anne has been a resident of north Texas since 1982 and now lives in McKinney. She has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi and a Masters of Library Science degree from Louisiana State University. She has pursued painting independently, while also studying art and painting at colleges and universities in Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Anne's paintings have been accepted into numerous regional juried shows, including Collin College, Irving Arts Association's Texas and Neighbors, Unique by Nature (McKinney), and the Visual Arts Guild of Frisco
